DR. WYNEKOOP FURNISHED CLIMAX OF HER CASE

SENSATIONS IN RASPUTIN CASE ARE SUCCESSIVE

Member of British Parliament Asked to Join Slayings

London, March 2—(AP)—The defense wound up its case in the "Rasputin libel suit" today in a blaze of new sensations—including the revelation for the first time by a member of the British Parliament that he had been invited to join the party which poisoned, clubbed and shot to death Rasputin, the Russian imperial court's "mad monk."

It remained for Commander Oliver Locker-Lampson to supply the dramatic climax to the day's testimony in the $2,000,000 libel suit of Princess Irene Youssouf against producers of the film "Rasputin and the Empress."

Told Of Murder
Testimony already presented gave intimate details of the gruesome murder which took place in the cellar of the St. Petersburg palace, Locker-Lampson, a member of Parliament for 25 years and distinguished for his services during the war, said he had been asked to join the "murder party" and had taken part in an unsuccessful scheme to save the Russian Royal family from a violent end during the days of the red revolution.

Sensation followed sensation after Locker-Lampson mounted the witness stand, giving his testimony—as Sir William Jovitt, defense attorney, said—"to do what you can to assist the ends of justice."

The most sensational of these statements was that he had been asked by Vladimir M. Purishkevitch—one of those who helped kill the monk—to join in the slaying.

EX-PRESIDENT HOOVER'S SON A DIRT FARMER

Allen Hoover Resigns White Collar Job To Manage Farm

Fresno, Calif., March 2—(AP)—Leaving a "white collar" job, Allen Hoover, second son of former President Hoover, turned today to the business of "dirty" farming.

For several months young Hoover has been working on farms in the San Joaquin Valley, tilling with the laborers, pruning vines and trees, helping irrigate the vineyards and wielding a hose and a shovel.

He had a position as a field man in the land department of a bank. He sought practical experience as a dirt farmer and even toiled Sundays and holidays to learn the business from the ground up.

He and his associates recently purchased a 500-acre farm which Hoover will manage but he declined to say what the future of farming held for him, remarking it was hard to be the son of a former President.

Four Mount Vernon Men Convicted of Murder: Sentenced

Mt. Vernon, Ill., March 2—(AP)—A jury in Circuit Court here today returned a verdict of guilty against four Mt. Vernon men charged with the slaying of Rosier Green, a farmer, during a hold-up last December.

The men convicted were Russell Seffred, Virgil Summers, Raymond Bailey and Fay Payne. All were sentenced to 17 years in the Southern Illinois penitentiary.

A fifth member of the gang, Herman Rich, confessed to his part in the slaying and pleaded guilty, but has not yet been sentenced.

Authorities charged the men were also responsible for a number of hold-ups, car thefts and other crimes in various sections of southern Illinois.

Owner Dognaped Prize-Winning Boston Bull Terrier Gives Up and Returns Home Discouraged

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—The mystery of the stashing of Kid Boots Ace—13-pound champion Boston bull terrier—grows deeper.

The owner Louis Rudinsky, left for his home in Winthrop, Mass., last night, discouraged and "all in," and still willing to pay—something.

Shortly after his departure, a friend here reported to police he had received a telephone call from New York stating that the animal was being shipped to Mrs. Rudinsky.

Surgeons Saved Uxoricide Who Attempted Suicide so State of Indiana Could Execute Him

Wife Killer, Who Cut His Wrists, Electrocutted This Morning

Michigan City, Ind., March 2—(AP)—Harley Edwards, a wife killer, who "couldn't stand the thought of going to the electric chair," went there today at 12:05 A. M. Three minutes later he was dead.

He had tried to escape it by suicide, and almost succeeded. With pieces of glass from his broken eyeglasses he slit both wrists. He had lost much blood when guards found him on the floor of his cell early yesterday morning.

"I want to die this way," he pleaded. "I can't stand the thought of going to the chair, don't save me for that."

But they did save him. Doctors halted the blood flow. A prisoner was found who was willing to give a pint of blood for a transfusion. The wounded wrists were bandaged. "He'll go to the chair if we have to take him there on a cot," said a prison official.

He did, but not on a cot. When midnight came the wife killer, with the blood of another convict flowing through his veins with his own, walked steadily to the execution chamber.

They asked him, as the electrodes were applied, if he had anything to say. He did not reply. The current was turned on.

Edwards, who was 39 and lived at Mitchell, Ind., had held hopes of a commutation of his death sentence. His 18-year-old son, Clarence Head, had entreated the Governor to prevent execution. "She was a wonderful mother," he said, "but electrocuting my father won't bring her back."

The Governor declined to interfere. A great part of Harley Edwards' last day on earth was spent in the prison hospital undergoing treatment of skilled surgeons who sought to save him long enough so the state could execute him.

The wife Edwards killed was estranged from him at the time she was murdered last July.

Young Democrats to Ignore Joliet Meeting Dec. 16

Galesburg, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Ignoring what they called an "unauthorizing convention" at Peoria last Dec. 16, leaders of the Illinois Young People's Democratic League of Illinois will gather here tomorrow in a two-day state meeting.

Floyd M. Kenley of Chicago, president of the league, will preside at meetings during which plans will be made for the Democratic campaigns in the elections of 1934. A successor to Kenley will be appointed, and also a vice president, secretary, and treasurer of the league.

Richard F. Roper of Washington, executive secretary of the Democratic National Committee and a director of all Democratic Young People's Clubs, will deliver the keynote address at 11 A. M. tomorrow.

Will Give Throop Time to Think It Over in Jail Cell

Belleville, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Addison J. Throop, former St. Clair county tax official, sentenced to prison for conspiracy to accept bribes in assessment matters, will have time to "think over" his refusal to testify against four other defendants before he is taken to prison.

This was announced today by county authorities who said his appeal bond is being prepared. Throop pleaded guilty to the charges, and later sought to change his plea. He was sentenced to one to five years in the Southern Illinois penitentiary by Judge Maurice V. Joyce yesterday.

Four other defendants, three of them former tax officials will be tried Monday.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

LICENSE A DAY

The month of February was a record breaker in the office of County Clerk Fred G. Dimick. The marriage license record shows a total of 28 licenses having been issued for the shortest month of the year with an average of one license being issued each day.

CHILD WARD DEAD

Donald Milo, aged three, of Chicago, a patient at the Dixon state hospital, was found dead in bed at the institution last night about 10 o'clock. Coroner Frank M. Banker of Franklin Grove is conducting an inquest at the Staples mortuary this afternoon.

AUDIT CLAIMS

The road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors were in session at the court house today auditing the claims for the month of February and preparing reports to be submitted at the March meeting of the board. The committee will also canvas bids for improvements to be made on the county highway system at their session this afternoon.

SAW FIRST ROBIN

Mrs. Orville Heckman of Graham street announces that early this morning in the yard at her home appeared a most welcome visitor, a robin, who cheerily chirruped a greeting as he busily looked for breakfast and kept a weary eye on eaves and crevices in the adjoining property, looking for an apartment he might lease for himself and the Mrs. for the next few months.

"Cheap Politics" Langer's Answer to Harry Hopkins

Bismarck, N. D., March 2—(AP)—Gov. William Langer of North Dakota, relieved of control of relief and civil works administration in the state, characterized as "cheap politics" today charges by the Federal government that he exacted tribute for political purposes from its workers in those organizations.

Charging it was apparent that contributions received from state relief and CWA workers were used for the Governor's political purposes, Federal Relief Director Hopkins in Washington ordered Governor Langer to turn the administration over to Judge A. M. Christianson, a member of the state Supreme Court who has been acting as State Administrator.

Hopkins made no charges against the state relief commission itself.

Tired, Repentant Runaway Girls are on Way Home Today

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Tired and repentant, two girls who Sunday ran away from the Jennings Seminary for Girls at Aurora, Ill., were on their way to Chicago today from Memphis, Tenn.

One of the pair, Miss Mary Dickinson, 16, telephoned to her mother here last night.

"We're tired and sorry now. We were trying to go south, but we're tired of hitch hiking. We're both ready to come home as soon as we get railroad fare."

Forgiveness was uttered and funds were telegraphed.

The other girl, Miss Marjorie Swift, 18, is granddaughter of the late George B. Swift, former Mayor of Chicago.

Horner Wants to be Shown Cement Bids Must be Same

Springfield, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Governor Horner today announced the state would ask the cement contractors if, as claimed by the 11 companies bidding on the state's 1934 requirements, the manufacturers were required to submit identical bids.

The Governor made it plain that he did not intend to seek a controversy with the NRA authorities and that if they ruled the cement code required identical bids he would have no further objection.

DuQuoin Negro, 90, Burned to Death

DuQuoin, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Rudy Steel, 90-year-old DuQuoin Negro, was burned to death last night and two houses were destroyed from a fire which started from an overheated stove in a shack occupied by the Negro. The roof of a third home was damaged.

ICY PAVEMENTS CAUSED MINOR MISHAPS TODAY

Truck Wrecked Porch of Hennepin Ave. Home Today

The front porch of the Dennis Murphy residence, 503 Hennepin avenue was wrecked this morning at 4:30, and a transmission line pole was splintered when a Western Freight Lines Company truck, driven by Edgar Mitchell of Chicago, skidded on the ice-covered roadway. The driver of the truck had missed the turn on Galena avenue and Seventh street as he drove west and he turned north on Hennepin avenue. Going down the grade on Hennepin avenue, the truck began sliding on the icy surface and skidded into the curb.

A transmission line pole was snapped off, part of it falling on the top of the cab as the truck clinked over the walk and into the yard of the Murphy home, crashing into the corner of the front porch which was wrecked. The driver escaped uninjured and the truck was only slightly damaged.

Lowell Whitebread, 506 Poplar street, narrowly escaped being injured about 10:30 last night in another crash at the corner of Seventh street and Galena avenue. A truck driven by Martin Van Zetten of Oskaloosa, Iowa, was turning north on Galena avenue and struck the sedan driven by Whitebread which was about to make the turn east on Seventh street. The pleasure car was turned around and thrown into the yard at the Crawford residence. Neither of the drivers sustained injuries but the Whitebread car was considerably damaged and had to be hauled to a garage.

The slippery paving at Seventh street and Galena avenue was the cause of another minor crash about 9:30 when three east-bound trucks experienced difficulty in making the turn off Galena avenue onto Seventh street. One of the trucks was standing still when the driver of the second skidded into it, damaging the front end of his truck.

SENATOR RESIGNS

Springfield, Ill., March 2—(AP)—The resignation of Senator E. P. Kline, East St. Louis Democrat, was received today. Kline, who has represented the 49th Senatorial district since 1930, was recently appointed postmaster of East St. Louis. His term would not have expired until next January.

The air frequently is smoother for flying when the sky is overcast than when the sun is shining brightly, due to the fact that "bumps" are caused by columns of heated air rising from the earth.

Mrs. Dan Curran Died After Short Illness Yesterday

Mrs. Dan C. Curran passed away Thursday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock at her home, 1903 Peoria avenue after an illness of four days duration. Mrs. Curran, a native of Hamilton township, had made her home in Dixon for the past 45 years.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Edward McBride and Mrs. Albert Fordyce of Dixon; four sons, Raymond of Los Angeles, Cal., Harold and James W. of Dixon, and William J. of Chicago; and two sisters, Mrs. Patrick Whalen of Cody, Wyo., and Mrs. Josephine Tracy of Dixon. Four grandchildren, Eugene, Richard and Julianne Curran and Robert McBride of this city also survive together with a host of more distant relatives and friends.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late home Monday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30. Rev. Fr. T. L. Walsh officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood.

Her Testimony of Finding Daughter-in-Law On Operating Table Dramatic

Gasped Out Story of Discovering Rheta Wynkoop Dead

Criminal Court Building, Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Taking the stand in her own defense today, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop told of the operating room slaying of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, for whose death she is on trial.

As she reached the part of her testimony describing how she found Rheta dead, Dr. Alice choked with emotion, her voice failed and she was unable momentarily to continue.

"You saw her face doctor, and what did you note?" asked defense attorney W. W. Smith, in a tense dramatic voice.

The courtroom fans, the jury, the judge, leaned forward. "I noted—a peculiar color."

"And what did that color indicate to you?"

The hush in the courtroom was that of tomb.

Dr. Wynkoop, who she had seemed so stoic, struggled to answer. The muscles on her thin neck played.

With a gasp she tossed back her head, her eyes quivering with tears.

"Death," she whispered hoarsely. And not a person stirred.

Dr. Wynkoop up until the time she described her trip to the basement had spoken calmly.

She spoke of how worried she had been about Rheta's continued absence the late afternoon of Nov. 21, how she had discussed it with Miss Enid Hennessey, the school teacher-boarder, and finally how she had telephoned a neighbor friend of the girl's, Mrs. Vera Duncan, to see if she had seen her.

She retold the often repeated version of Miss Hennessey's going on an errand for her to two drug stores after dinner that night, and said they had sat talking for perhaps three quarters of an hour after her return. The school teacher said, was gone about a half an hour.

Miss Hennessey, she said, complained of gastric trouble, and the physician told her she related, that she had something for her and would get it and bring it to the school teacher.

As well as she can remember, she said Miss Hennessey went to phone and she went upstairs to the rooms Rheta and Earle occupied in her home to see if the young woman had returned.

She said she did not find her and on coming back down she passed Miss Hennessey at the foot of the stairs going up. That was about 3:30 P. M., she said.

Q. Then what did you do, doctor? A. I started down to the basement.

Q. Did you turn on the light at the head of the stairs? A. I always do.

Q. Then what? A. I went down to the operating room, turned on the light.

Here Dr. Wynkoop was beginning to show signs of emotion—she, who had always been so calm, so cold.

Got Short Rest
A state objection to the method of questioning gave her a rest. She leaned her head back, closed her eyes. Her thin hands were clasped tightly. The light glinted on her narrow gold wedding ring.

Q. What did you see, Doctor? Tell us in your own words.

For a moment Dr. Wynkoop hesitated, her eyes were on the operating table—the table on which she said she found Rheta dead—which was about two feet from her chair.

She swallowed. The intake of her breath could be heard in the hushed courtroom. The judge leaned forward.

MOVIES TAKEN OF COUNCIL IN EXTRA SESSION

Will be Part of Dixon Feature Picture March 13-14

Moving pictures were made last night of Mayor George C. Dixon and city officials in the council chambers. Mr. Chapman, cameraman for the Universal Community Service, is still busy taking pictures of Dixon merchants, factories, schools, street scenes and local characters for showing at the Dixon Theatre on March 13 and 14.

Cooperative merchants have arranged a special new deal merchandising program to start next week, at which time many attractive items of new spring articles will be displayed in store windows and offered for sale. Tickets to the Dixon Theatre for the showing of the Dixon feature movies, together with the full theatre program, including Zasu Pitts in "The Meanest Girl in Town," will be given by participating merchants, beginning next week, to customers making purchases and payments on account.

Hundreds of people have had to stand in line for hours at similar showings held previously at Belvidere, Pontiac and other places, and it is suggested that all attend the early shows in order to secure seats. The shows will start at 1:30 on both days mentioned and run continuously until 11 P. M.

A few drops of blood were on the floor—she was lying in an apparently stiff position.

Q. See anything else? A. Yes, there was a gun at her head.

Q. Did you look at her face? A. Yes, but her back was toward me. I had to walk around her to see her face.

Q. But you saw her face?

Then she broke as she described the peculiar color of the young wife's face told her, a physician, that Rheta was dead.

Q. And then what did you do, doctor?

She gasped her replies.

"As soon as I could—I was in a dazed condition—could hardly breathe—I started upstairs. I thought once I couldn't make it, but I told myself I must go on. I got up somehow. Got to the top of the stairs. Found a chair—sat down. Then called Catherine."

Her moving lips would not form words. Her thin frame shook with repressed sobs.

Q. What next? A. I just sat. But I was so weak I could hardly sit. I seemed hardly a part of life. The defendant described the arrival of Catherine and Thomas Ahern, the undertaker, and the police who came in answer to a call by the undertaker. Then the police took down her statement. There were two of them, she said, and they used her typewriter in the office. They began about 10 and finished about two hours later.

Hear Talk of Door
Q. Did you hear any discussion about the rear door being open? A. I definitely heard the officers talking about it.

Q. Do you know which ones they were? A. No, they were outside the room. I could hear their voices but couldn't see their faces.

Q. Did you tell the policemen where you last saw the pistol? A. Yes, I told them it was in the drawer of the desk.

She had looked in the medicine cabinet and saw that a number of towels had been disarranged, she said. That was after she had noticed the chloroform bottle on the table.

Q. Did you sleep at all that night? A. No, I didn't sleep at all.

Mystery Follows Plunge of Auto Into Canal; No Signs of Body in Car or Water; Had New Licenses

Chicago, Mar. 2—(AP)—A man who drove an automobile to his death in the Sanitary Canal rather than run down a woman pedestrian was believed today to be Michael J. Linder, a jeweler of suburban Palatine.

The automobile was recovered today from the sludge water of the canal but the driver was not. Through the license, the automobile was traced to Werner. At his home, the jeweler was reported missing since yesterday.

Witnesses said the car swerved from the sidewalk, smashed through

ARREST OTTAWA MAN ON AN OLD MURDER CHARGE

Son of A Prominent Attorney Held: Seek Another Suspect

Ottawa, Ill., Mar. 2—(AP)—With an alleged accomplice being sought, authorities were today holding Howard Ruffner, 39, member of a prominent Ottawa family on a charge of committing a murder four years ago.

Sheriff E. J. Welter, who made the arrest last night, said Ruffner is charged with murdering Vincent Webber, a German bid, in a packing house in November of 1929.

Webber was robbed, beaten, bound, and left to die in a packing house vat.

Evidence Guarded
Welter refused to disclose his evidence, other than to say that he had been investigating the crime for some months, and that a German pistol and gold watch he found in Ruffner's house were similar to the articles stolen from Webber.

He said he hoped to make another arrest, and at his request the hearing was set over for 10 days and Ruffner held without bail.

Ruffner denied guilt. He is married and has one child. His father is an attorney.

Webber's body, when found, was in a bad state of decomposition. He had "flushed" a $1,000 bill, his friends reported, and authorities expressed the belief he was waylaid in his room and his body tossed into a vat in an unused packing house.

COMPROMISE ON CONNECTING HI-WAY IS HINTED

Co. Highways Superintendent Returns from Capital

That a compromise might be effected in the building of the state highway south from Cavanaugh's corners northwest of Woodstock connecting state routes 26 and 6, was hinted today upon the return from Springfield of County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake who spent yesterday conferring with Ernest Lieberman, Chief Highway Engineer. The presence in Springfield of the county highway officials served notice on the state department that the Supreme Court would be asked to set aside the department's decision to follow a suggested routing north from the east limits of Sterling, through the village of Penrose and thence northeasterly to complete the proposed link.

County Superintendent Leake notified the state highway officials that in the event that the latest proposed route was decided upon, that the state would be enjoined from beginning construction as soon as the contract is awarded. The road is to be built this summer.

Prohibition Case Over 6 Years Old Dismissed Today

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Never able to find Alford H. Pouse, a former State's Attorney of McHenry county, the government at last dismissed the six and one-half years old prohibition indictment against him and 60 others.

It was the oldest prohibition violation case on the Federal court docket when Judge Walter C. Lindley wiped it from the record today.

The indictment was returned Sept. 30, 1927, against Pouse and three score co-defendants. But Pouse disappeared, and with him the chance of bringing the rest to trial, for the case revolved about charges that he collected protection fees from saloonkeepers.

WORK well done leads to greater opportunities. The simplest or the greatest task can be done cheerfully, and the successful worker finds pleasure in all that he undertakes. He loses no opportunity to express unselfishness, goodness, loving-kindness, and tender assistance. Fear, doubt, resentment, human will, and self-pity, have no room in his consciousness. He is working out his own salvation, and incidentally is helping his neighbor to do the same. Such a one is happy and wonderfully blessed, and can continually say, with the Psalmist, "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it."

Tested RECIPES

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

A March Sunday Dinner
The Menu
Fruit Cocktail
Chicken, Southern Style
Mashed Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Cauliflower
Bread Currant Jelly
Occidental Salad
Relish Dressing
Cherry Pie Coffee

Chicken, Southern Style
4 1-2 pound roaster
1-3 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
6 tablespoons fat
1 cup water
Wash and clean chicken. Cut into serving pieces. Wipe dry and sprinkle with flour, salt and paprika. Heat fat in frying pan and add and quickly brown chicken. Remove to baking pan. Pour water into frying pan and boil one minute, pour water over chicken. Cover and bake 2 hours in moderate oven. Turn several times to allow even cooking. More water may be required so inspect frequently. After chicken has been removed from pan, gravy can be made by blending 4 tablespoons of flour with 4 tablespoons of water and adding with one cup of milk to the drippings, then cooking for 2 minutes or until the gravy thickens.

Frequently corn fritters are served with chicken cooked in this manner.
Occidental Salad, (for 6)
6 pieces lettuce
24 spears cooked asparagus
2-3 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers
2 tablespoons pickle relish
1-2 teaspoon salt
Chill ingredients. Arrange lettuce on plates, top with portions of rest of ingredients. Add dressing.

Relish Dressing
1-3 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons French dressing
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 tablespoon catsup
1-2 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Mix and chill ingredients. Serve on salads.

PHIDIAN ART CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

The Phidian Art Club will meet Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Geo. C. Dixon, 411 E. McKinney street. Mrs. Harry Warner will have the paper of the afternoon: "Contemporary Drama."

Resume of Girl Scout Activities, of Different Troops

In commemoration of the birth of George Washington and Lord Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting, the Dixon Girl and Boy Scouts arranged a window decoration at Vaile & O'Malley's clothing store. Displays of Boy Scout Indian craft and materials were combined with displays of Girl Scout activities and handicraft. The window was planned by Mr. Newmann, director of Lee County Boy Scouting, Mr. Kenneth Abbott, captain of Troop No. 60, and the Girl Scout Junior Leader's Association, assisted by Mrs. Stewart Nettz, a member of the local Girl Scout Publicity committee.

All Scouts will be pleased to know that through the courtesy of Vaile & O'Malley's the window display was included in the moving pictures taken in Dixon last week.

Troop I
Notice to Mothers: Girl Scout Thrift material has been changed from 20c per yard to 40c per yard, due to the code affecting all cotton goods. You will receive your new catalogue soon.

The troop meetings now resemble a very busy bee hive. Every girl is concentrating on her individual project. All are excited about Sir Richard's Minstrel which is to be given at the Court of Awards on March 23. A visitor would think he was transported back to the days of Richard the Lion Hearted, as he listened to the old English tunes being practiced.

Special groups are signalling the Morse code with early decorated flags. Another group are anxiously inquiring about the food of Cardinals or how the cricket makes his merry chirp. A course in table etiquette is being demonstrated in another room, while still other Scouts are training and testing their powers of observation.

However, it hasn't been all work. There was the gay pop corn party where everyone ate more than they could and enjoyed it. One patrol had much fun preparing a birthday greeting for a Boy Scout troop, while still another prepared a Valentine heart of candy for Mrs. Rodesch.

The troop enjoyed having Mrs. Helms, Captain of one of the Sterling Girl Scout troops as their guest this last week. Also, good news—six more girls sent in their registration fees.

Troop II
When twenty Girl Scouts received their tenderfoot pins, Troop II really held a celebration. All mothers were invited to view the investiture ceremony. Following the pledge of allegiance to the United States flag the new girls were presented to their captain, Miss Ruth Kertz. After signifying their desire to become Girl Scouts and live up to the promise, they were invested. After a program given by the girls, ice cream cups were served. Informal talks by Scout leaders and mothers completed the meeting.

The patrol leaders, Jean Jean Quilhat, Alice Dodd, Jean and Jean Phalen have been busy instructing their patrols in second class requirements. At the last Court of Honor four very exciting meetings were planned for the next month. Hi—Little Laspie is becoming the troop's most popular game. Of course Troop II also sent Valentine greetings to Mrs. Rodesch and a birthday card to the Boy Scouts.

At the last meeting each patrol reviewed the history of the American flag and learned how to use it correctly. Two of the patrols mastered this requirement, but the others must study a bit more. Everyone helped in the demonstration showing the correct method of folding the flag. Two patrols also demonstrated how to correctly set a table for two courses. Four poems were read by volunteers before tape finally closed the meeting.

LACE COMES TO THE FORE IN PARIS STYLES

Lace is the headliner this spring. Wear it to mill and to meeting and almost any other place you happen to be going. At the Paris spring openings Ardanse showed a daytime ensemble (left) in beige linen lace with a long-sleeved dress and matching three-quarter coat. The white patent leather belt and pearl buttons and buckle give it an air of suave, tailored simplicity.

Aesop's fables inspired the pattern for the black thread lace (right) made up over fine white handkerchief linen. Ankle length with a pleated basque of white crepe, it's quite a startling evening gown. For whoever thought that we'd see lace and linen combined? But here it is. Dikusha makes it.

home in her honor. The evening was spent in playing games and cards, and refreshments were served. Those present were Mary Meade, Eleanor Scott, Helen Curtin, Raymond Leake, Bill Ford, Jake Leuzinger and Floyd Winterland.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

Stain-Removing Tricks

Use Simple Materials
Ink stains in the carpet may be removed with a cloth wrung out in a little milk. Continue the rubbing until the stain has disappeared. Buttermilk is also good for ink stains.

If anything has become stained by soot, cover with salt and then brush off with a stiff brush. Never wet a soot stain.

For paint spots rub with a cloth dipped in turpentine.

Black Tissue Wrapping Keeps Gold Shoe's Shine

Here's something that will help to keep your gold or silver evening shoes bright and free from tarnish. Keep them wrapped in black tissue paper or in an old pair of black stockings until ready to wear.

Burnt Butter Sauce

To make burnt butter sauce, put butter in the saucepan and let it burn very gradually. If this is done too quickly a bitter taste results, but cooking slowly to the burning point gives a delicious flavor. Eggs with burnt butter sauce are good. Burnt butter is the foundation of caramel flavor, but caramel makes sugar. The burnt butter by itself makes a nice sauce for breakfast or supper or light luncheon dishes.

Cinnamon Toast Time-Saver

If cinnamon toast is a family favorite mix half a cup of sugar and a tablespoon of cinnamon and place in a sugar sifter. It will save time and mixes the flavors evenly.

Topping For Cookies

Colored sugars and coconut make good toppings for drop cakes, cookies or candies. Bits of candied fruits and nuts can be arranged cleverly on top of desserts.

Mr. and Mrs. Haas 34th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haas of Amboy, celebrated their thirty-fourth wedding anniversary last Thursday. During the afternoon Mrs. Haas entertained the Fannie Doty club at her home on Metcalf avenue. Mrs. Haas received a beautiful bouquet of red roses from her sister, Mrs. Mary Wallis, in honor of the occasion.

Surprise Farewell For Miss Fortney

Miss Rita Fortney of Amboy left Wednesday for Dixon where she has entered the Dixon hospital as a student nurse. Miss Fortney was a graduate of the Amboy Township High School, class of '33. A surprise farewell party was held Tuesday evening at the Fortney home.

Plan for Party In Ohio, Mar. 15th

A St. Patrick's dance and card party will be held Thursday evening, March 15th, in the Ohio opera house under the auspices of the Young Men's Club of the Immaculate Conception Parish of Ohio.

Edward Harding Piper is chairman and he has the following committees preparing for the event.
Dance—Dale Doran, Harry Gorman and James Doran.
Advertising—Gus Lynch.
Tickets—Joe Doran, Jr., George Felzer, Conrad Knuth and Gus Lynch.

Cards—Steve Gorman, Paul Gurgerty and Robert Walters.
Lunch—Fred Walters, Mike Paley, Nate Gurgerty and Joseph T. Hamon.

Raffle—Joseph C. Hamon, Leo Knuth, Ed Crannell, Guy Lynch and L. Krietzler.
Finance—Ed Donnelly, Francis Piper, Dale Doran, Thomas Gurgerty, Jr. and John Paley.

Winnifred N. Mall Bride Jos. Lovett

The residence of Mrs. J. M. Mall of Ashton was the scene of a pretty home wedding at eight o'clock Saturday evening when her elder daughter, Winnifred, became the bride of Joseph W. Lovett, son of James M. Lovett of West Brooklynn. Rev. Chas. D. Wilson, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated in the impressive single ring ceremony in the presence of fifty relatives and friends. The guests were received by Miss Alma Mall, cousin of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Leona Grant sang beautifully, "I Love You Truly." During the soft strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Robert Knapp, the bridal group took their places beneath a beautiful pink and white wedding bell, before a background of lovely ferns and potted plants. The couple were attended by Miss Eleanor Pittman of Dixon and Walter Spratt of Franklin Grove. The bride was charming in a dress of deep salmon silk crepe with white organdy puff sleeves, and accessories to match. Her attendant wore a dress of harmonizing medium green. The groom wore an attractive suit of Oxford grey and his attendant wore a dark suit.

Following the ceremony a dainty wedding luncheon was served by the Misses Martha Mall, Helen Grant, the bride's aunts, Mrs. Fred Kuth, Mrs. Charles J. Mall and Mrs. Paul R. Hamon, and Mrs. W. Alan Grant assisting in the preparation. The color scheme of pink and white was pleasantly carried out in the luncheon.

The bride is a graduate of the Ashton High School, with the class of 1930, and has many friends in this community. She has filled several clerical positions in Ashton and of late has been employed at the Caron Spinning Mills in Rochelle. Mr. Lovett is a prosperous and energetic young farmer and following his high school days served three years in the United States Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovett will reside on the farm of his father about ten miles south of Ashton.

Meeting and "Depression Party" for E. R. B. Class was Enjoyed

The regular monthly meeting of the E. R. B. class of St. Paul's Lutheran Bible School was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Austin George, twenty-six members and one guest being present. After singing several songs the Scripture lesson from the 20th chapter of Matthew, in charge of Mrs. Claude Switzer, was given, closing with all standing together and praying the Lord's Prayer.

During the business session it was voted, and plans discussed for a public supper to be given in the first week in April, the proceeds from this to be used for music and new racks for the Sunday school orchestra. Committees were appointed for this.

The social hour following was very much enjoyed. The hostess had announced this would be a "depression party," and the guests came dressed accordingly. Most amazing and ridiculous were some of the costumes worn. Mrs. Christine Gommereau received the prize for her dress representing "Hard Times."

Mrs. Lottie Brooks and Mrs. Emil Neff in dress of the gay 30's and Mrs. Julia Hubbard in something "beyond description" were a hit for the second prize. If laughter aids digestion, then every on-present was in perfect form for the refreshments served later.

Assisting Mrs. George as hostess were Mrs. Claude Switzer, Mrs. Howard Switzer and Mrs. Harry Moore.

The next meeting of the class will be a picnic supper at the church April 5th.

THE FINAL VICTORY.

William Ferguson's entertaining series of drawings, "This Curious World," makes an interesting point about George Washington's military career, pointing out that while Washington was in command of the American revolutionary army he lost considerably more battles than he won.

He was routed badly on Long Island, he was chased north from Manhattan, he was pursued all across New Jersey, he failed to stop the British before Philadelphia, and he failed to cut them off when they moved back to New York.

Truly, if the mere number of victories were any criterion, Washington was a very poor general.

Yet he occupies high rank as a military man; and his career reminds one of what often is said of the British army in other wars—that it has a habit of losing every battle except the last one.

That was what Washington did. He lost fight after fight, but he never gave up, and he won the last one—which counted more than all the others put together.

SEE THE DOUGHNUT INSTEAD OF THE HOLE.

Two young men not particular about how they obtained money looked at the reported proceeds of the St. Paul kidnapping and missed seeing what has happened to all the other kidnapers of recent dates.

They looked at the doughnut and didn't see the hole. When they made their plans for kidnapping E. P. Adler, they had visions of wealth. Now one of them is dead and the other may as well be.

Immediately after his capture, Mayo began thinking about the countrywide sentiment against kidnapping and about laws providing death sentences, so he said robbery was the purpose of attack. It's strange how quickly the penalty seizes a criminal when he gets behind the bars, and how little he contemplates it when he is planning his crime. It's strange, too, how little one man learns from the ill fate of another.

PROOF OF GREATNESS.

It is a graceful and public-spirited thing that those famous physicians, Minnesota's Mayo brothers, have done in giving an additional $500,000 for medical research to the University of Minnesota.

The explanation is that, since the money originally came from the sick, "we believe that it ought to return to the sick in the form of advanced medical education."

This country seldom has produced any more truly useful citizens than these Mayo brothers. And, incidentally, by their generosity to the cause of medical science, they seem to have demonstrated pretty clearly that a desire for riches is not the only motive that can cause a talented man to give his best efforts to his job.

NOT A CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT.

James Roosevelt, son of the white house, but a resident of Boston, is opposing ratification of the so-called child labor amendment to the United States constitution by the Bay state legislature, although his mother is an advocate of the amendment.

Washington newspaper reporters have been advised that Mrs. Roosevelt has written her son asking his reasons for his conduct.

His reason probably is the same as that of the numerous legislatures that rejected the amendment when it was first started on its way nearly ten years ago, that it is not child labor amendment, but a labor amendment.

It is not the boys and girls of today, but their ambitious and money-making fathers and mothers, who are responsible for the handicaps with which the youth of today faces the future.—Dr. Susan Guild, Washburn College, Topeka.

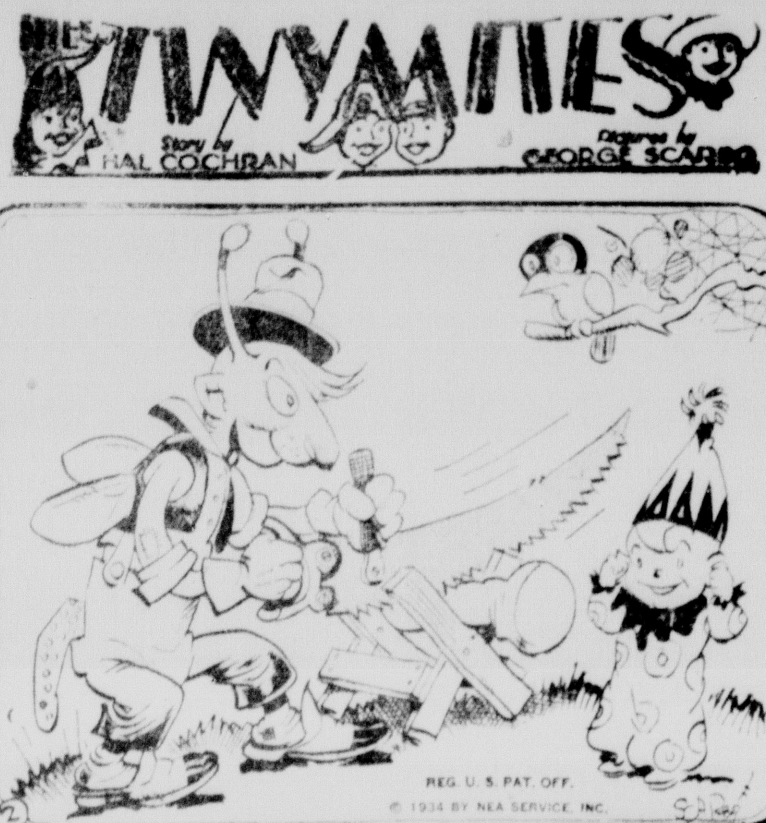

The intelligent young woman of today does not conform to a certain moral code because she thinks tradition or public opinion demands. Her conduct is regulated chiefly by what she considers good taste.—Miss Harriet M. Allyn, academic dean, Mt. Holyoke College.

Red causes a nervous reaction, and when a bridge player gets too many red cards it arouses the fighting spirit.—Dr. Lee G. Miller, optometrist, in a speech at Lincoln, Neb.

Our education has been an education for a static, relatively fixed social order.—Prof. John Dewey of Columbia University.

If some of you are dying in a trench within the next decade, the cause will probably be the Manchurian question, the Polish corridor or the status of Austria.—Prof. Preston W. Slosson, addressing University of Michigan students protesting Austrian carnage.

An economist is a financier without money.—Dr. S. Howard Patterson, professor of economics, University of Pennsylvania.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The baby chipmunk grew tired out and then the bunch heard Nicky shout, "Well he's gone back into the hole to get a little rest. I guess you Tinkles realize that dancing is real exercise, and makes you rather fagged. A nap for Chippy, now, is best."

The mother chipmunk then replied, "I knew that he would run inside our home in just a little while. He's scared of girls and boys."

"However, I am not afraid. For years and years sweet tunes I've played upon my little flute, though it may sound like so much noise."

"Oh, no it doesn't! Doty said, 'We love your music! Go ahead and play another little tune. We'll have a circle dance!'"

The chipmunk seemed real glad to do the playing. When the dance was through, it said, "You all danced lovely. Now, I'll let you see me prance."

The Tinkles watched it skip away.

It shortly turned around to say, "I'll see you all again, sometime, and disappear from sight."

"Gee, what fine little friends we've found," said Goldy. "Now, let's look around and find some more, back in the woods, ere day turns into night."

They walked a little while and then stopped suddenly to listen, when a strange noise came from just ahead. Said Windy, "What is that?"

"Why, that's an old grasshopper," said Nicky. "Gee, he's lots of fun. I call him Goofy 'cause he wears a very funny hat."

"You've often heard grasshoppers buzz. That is the best thing Goofy does. He saws up grass and other things. Then eats them when he's through."

"Come on, we'll meet him. 'Twill be sport. He really is a friendly sort." The Tinkles walked right up and Goofy shouted, "Howdy do!"

"A funny beetle, entertains the Tinkles in the next story."

FIGHTING INFANTILE PARALYSIS—II

A disease may be overcome in one of several ways. A specific remedy may be found which will be effective in curing the disease in every instance.

A disease may be eradicated through the breaking of a link in the chain of circumstances necessary to its propagation. This is illustrated in the history of yellow fever, where the disease was overcome by doing away with the breeding places of the yellow fever mosquito.

Still another way in which a disease may be overcome is by vaccination.

In meeting the challenge of infantile paralysis, we have sought to control its spread by strict quarantine, keeping the sufferer from coming in contact with others. Unfortunately, by the time the case is recognized many persons have already become exposed.

We have found what may be an effective remedy in immune serum.

that is, the serum from the blood of individuals who have recovered from infantile paralysis.

The evidence as to the effectiveness of this remedy is not clearly in its favor. This may be due to the fact that we are not using it early enough in the disease, or in large enough doses, or again that we are not administering it properly.

The most hopeful promise in the infantile paralysis situation, however, does lie in preventives. From one laboratory we learn that it has been possible to make susceptible monkeys resistant to the disease by vaccinating them with a combination of polio virus and immune serum. In this method live virus is used.

What appears like an improvement on this technique was reported from another laboratory. Here a dead or modified virus is used as a vaccinating agent. By this method, too, susceptible monkeys have been made resistant to infantile paralysis.

These methods follow closely those employed in the prevention of smallpox and of hydrophobia.

Tomorrow—Migraine.

Everyday Religion

BY DR. JOSEPH FORT NEWTON

"Some time ago," writes a reader, "in speaking of people up against it," you told of a woman who had found something beyond courage. What was it she found that helped her to fight it through and how did she find it? Lots of us whose courage is growing thin want to know."

She did not say what it was—perhaps she could not. Because, as one of our poets has said, "the flowering moments of the mind drop like petals in our speech." Often they drop less than half their petals into our speech, and the rest is silence for which there are no words.

In love and religion, as Coventry Patmore put it, what is most worth telling can never be told. After all, words are only a ripple on the bosom of the unspoken, and the deepest things in life remain unuttered. Try we never so hard, we cannot tell the thing that means most to us.

"The thing beyond happiness," wrote Lady Mary Montague to her daughter a century or more ago. Then she added, "I am at the end of my paper, which shortens the sermon." But if her paper had held out, could she have told what it is that lies on the other side of happiness?

Of such things only a mystic or poet can write; and only those can understand who have walked in their shining path. Anyway, our courage can hold on just so long, can carry us just so far. If we do go beyond it we are broken, but if we do break through we win out.

William James, who once came to a breaking point and thought of taking his life, put it in this way. "As the essence of courage is to stake one's life on a possibility, so the essence of faith is to believe that the possibility exists." It is faith, then, that takes us beyond courage!

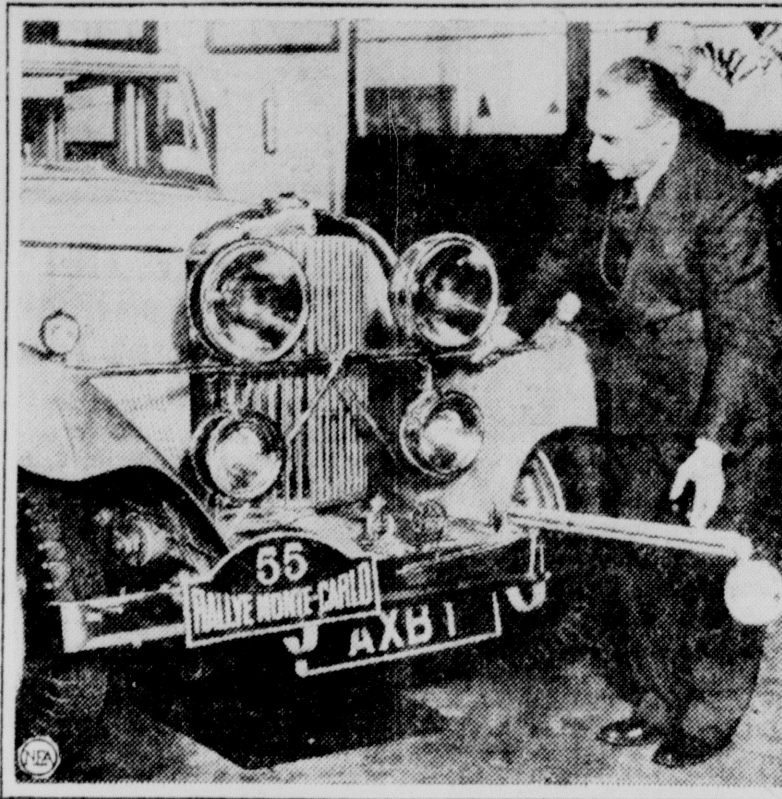

In such a case, James adds, the part of wisdom as well as of courage is to believe in the line of our needs, for only by such belief can the need be fulfilled. Refuse so to believe, he says, and you perish.

What did the brave little woman find beyond courage? She found God, who is nearer to us than our own souls and, by putting her hand in His she won out. No wonder she was unable to tell her secret!

Lee Co. Farm Bureau Affairs

Saturday evening 1200 corn and hog contracts were in the Farm Bureau Office at Amboy. The sign-up is going steadily on with four townships to be covered this week. The spirit of the farmers is excellent and many are now signing up who first refused. Many landlords who have been reluctant are now signing with their tenants.

Sign Up By Local Committees. Local committees have been in charge of the educational and sign-up work. One representative from the Farm Adviser's office has been at each sign-up to assist on the difficult cases.

It is estimated that at least 90 per cent of the land in the county will be brought under contract.

Farmers who have not already signed up will be given another opportunity by their local committee in the near future.

Lee Co. Grain Assn. Ranks High. At the annual meeting of the Illinois Grain Corporation at Peoria Thursday, February 22, it was announced that Lee county ranked fourth in the state in 1933 in the amount of grain shipped cooperatively. Five-hundred and ninety carloads were shipped from the various stations. Although Lee county is considered a livestock county this is an excellent record. The Lee County Grain Association ranks high of all the elevators in the state in the amount of grain shipped cooperatively. It ranks second with 367,000 bushels. This is a very good record for the association that has been operating a little over a year. Robert Hoyt and Richard Phelan of Amboy are the county managers.

Thomas on Illinois' Grain Board. Walter Thomas from Paw Paw was elected on the grain board at the annual meeting. Mr. Thomas has been on the board of the Paw Paw elevator for years. The elevators which sent delegations are Eldena, Sublette, West Brooklyn, Paw Paw and Lee County Grain Association.

Meaning of Word "FIDAC". "Fidac" is a word made up of the initials of Federation Interalliee Des Anciens Combattants (International Federation of Former Combatants). It is an organization of veterans' societies of the following countries in the World war: United States, American Legion; Great Britain, British Legion; France, ten organizations; Poland, 20; Romania, seven; Belgium, 5; Czechoslovakia, four; Italy, two; Jugoslavia, two; Portugal, one. It was founded in Paris in 1929 and about eight million veterans are represented by it.

It is your duty to carry Accident Insurance. If you use an automobile you can protect your family to the amount of $1,000 for 1 year for $1.25.

from the LAXATIVE HABIT

Physicians Recommend Non-Irritating Flush

Do you know that most medicine-laxatives work by irritating the delicate membranes of the digestive tract? Physicians warn against this unnatural method. First—because the intestinal muscles become sluggish, lazy. Second—because when taken regularly the drug soon loses its effect, compels you to take more and more.

Nature's Way—a Flush
(The Water Way)

Nature's way is far more simple. It is merely to flush out the wastes and poisons—without impairing the intestinal muscles in the least.

That's why more than 50,000 physicians recommend Pluto Water. For Pluto is not a drug or medicine-laxative but a saline mineral water. The same amount each time—no need to increase it—always performs, does not gripe, gives positive action in less than one hour. And—it cannot give you the laxative habit!

The proper dosage is one-fifth glass Pluto in four-fifths glass hot water. It is gentle, effective and practically tasteless.

BROOKVILLE

By OLIVE BOWERS

BROOKVILLE—The Harmony Musical Club will meet this evening with Miss Verne's home. The hostesses are looking forward to an evening filled with music and musical literature. Some of the subjects to be discussed will be "Stage fright and how to cure it," "Music and the diet," "A study of famous operas and what operas Americans prefer," "Life of Giuseppe Verdi," "Thoughts of Professor Lechitry." Roll call will be answered by a famous composition and a short biography of the composer. There will also be musical games.

The first few days of March will find many families from this community getting settled in new localities while others are moving into our midst. The Nathaniel Martz family are moving to the Henry Peters farm in the Shriver community and the Leroy Veitmer family to the John Bowman farm vacated by the Martz's. The George Porter family are moving to the Adam Kramer farm while the present tenant Harvey Mathias goes to the Ed Sarber place. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cox, who had been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith are moving to the Conrad Stengel farm east of Polo. Ben Weegans and his sister, Ada are moving to the Mrs. Sarah Shreffler farm and the Howard Galls to the place made vacant by the Weegans. Russell Paul and family are moving to the Pete Shiley farm near Lanark and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Vietmeir are moving from Mt. Morris to their own farm vacated by the Paul family. The C. Herrin family have already moved from Baileyville to the Mrs. Nora Miller farm taking the place of the Mack Taylor family who moved northwest of Lanark in Cherry Grove township. Mr. and Mrs. C. Devo have moved to Polo and a Mr. Bockwell and family will occupy the place the Devo's vacated.

Miss Lucille Kramer of Freeport spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Clyde Dampman and family.

A special event in the home of Milton Hess, Lima township on Sunday was the celebration of the birthday anniversaries of the following members, Mrs. Hess, their daughter, Velma and son Orville and their son-in-law, W. Mundt, who with his family were guests around the festive board from Sterling. Mr. and Mrs. Hess are the parents of twelve children, all being present for this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Unger were Sunday dinner guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. Stimax at Mt. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schick their sons Clifford and Robert of Dixon spent the day Sunday with Mrs. Schick's sisters, Mrs. Charles Welker and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Senn.

Mrs. C. B. Underkaffler received word of the recent passing of her nephew, William Mellinger at Norfolk, Neb. The Mellinger family formerly resided at this place.

William Blair of Thomson spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. John Beightel at Chambers Grove. William is a freshman in the Thomson high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Harter spent the day Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Mack Taylor near Lanark, the latter are parents of Mrs. Harter.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Aldrich and little son Fritz of Freeport were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wehmeyer.

Mrs. Alice Shirk and children, Dorothy and Robert of Shannon spent Sunday with her brother, William Joham and family. Miss Evelyn Joham who had spent the past two weeks in Shannon accompanied the Shirks to her home here.

SHARPSHOOTERS TO ROCHELLE; PLAY TWO GAMES

Dixon Cagers In Final Conference Games This Evening

By BRADLEY MOLL.

The purple and white boys will invade the Rochelle floor tonight in a dual tilt with the Rochelle squads. The games tonight will mark the end of the official conference season, and will decide just who goes where and why. To-night's battle will bring the Dixon lads against the under dogs of the conference, but who in their last few games have shown up remarkably well. The following of the team tonight will no doubt see a fast and exciting game. In this respect it might be well to give out some data on the scores of the games so far this year. Not long ago when it was mentioned that Dixon was just naturally no-good, I happened to hear some comment on that particular phase of the basketball situation, and so I thought of two ways to show that Dixon has a pretty good record all the way around.

The conference this year has been exceptionally strong, and some of the teams in out-of-the-conference games have shown up remarkably well. Now there is some proof that Dixon came pretty close to the top in their final rating. With the exception of against DeKalb, Dixon did some mighty fine work, and here is the proof. Dixon, at Mendota, was taken by the slim score of 27-25, and when that team invaded Dixon the locals reversed the score and led the Mendota squad by 31-28. With Rock Falls Dixon lost her game here by another close score 20-18, and on the Rock Falls court the locals did even better coming up and losing the toughest game of the season by the score of 23-24. Belvidere beat Dixon but by one point on the local floor, 19-20, while there another close score was in evidence, namely, 23-19. The first game with Sterling proved disastrous, and the locals lost by 27-22, while on the foreign court Dixon trimmed Sterling by the score of 25-22. Dixon split her games with Mt. Morris winning here by 29-27, and losing the second there 11-18. The first game played with Rochelle proved to be Dixon's greatest victory from the score angle when the final count was 17-27. Now in the light of comparison Dixon has played some pretty tough games, and she has lost some tough games by some close scores, and there is no reason to believe that the local squads were the underdogs, or that they didn't have the ability.

It would be hardly justifiable to say that the Dixon High school was behind in everything, and here is some information that the loud, and vociferous advocates of that belief will find pretty hard to digest, or even chew.

In agriculture, the Dixon high school has been a consistent winner, taking several state meets, two national meat judging contests in face of keen competition, and one international contest. In track the Dixon representatives have often gone to the state, and have placed high in that meet. In the commercial department we find more evidences of victory, for in state competition the Dixon pupils have repeatedly carried away the

SHE ATE ALL-BRAN TWELVE YEARS WITH FINE RESULTS

Delicious Cereal Relieves Constipation

Read this very enthusiastic letter:

"Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. How much safer than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Just eat two tablespoons daily for most types of constipation. For serious cases, try it three times daily. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

honors. In the last four years, Dixon has never had anything but first place in the conference oratorical contest and in public speaking they have dished out plenty of victories. In spite of the nervousness of gold to the school curriculum Dixon took first place in the conference golf meet last year, which only shows that the victories of the school lie in many fields. The football record has been good, and the basketball certainly meets up with the well balanced high school squads. Dixon can't win everything, nor do they expect to, but above all else it would only be fair to give them credit for some of the victories, in time of their defeat. Suppose some of the loud squawkers show some good records like this one.

Tournament Dope

Here is the information that fans have been waiting for in regard to the sectional tournament, to be held March 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10. Dixon's first game will be with Erie, who according to all dope are pretty good, and who without a doubt will give Dixon a real battle. This game will be the second game of Wednesday night, and scheduled to start at 7:45 the first game that night to be between Walnut and Ohio, and with two other games to follow the Dixon-Erie game, making four games for that night Wednesday night.

The price of admission for all games will be fifty cents, excepting the finals. Saturday night will be fifty cents. Friday night will see the semi-finals and of course will consist of two games. Saturday night, the losers of the previous night will fight it off for third place, and then the two winners of Friday night will go at it hammer and tongs, to see who will be first, and who will be second.

Dixon has the following procedure to go through with in order to get anywhere near the top, first she must meet Erie. Supposing then that Dixon beats Erie, her course will be to play the winner of the Ohio-Walnut game. Let us suppose that it is Ohio, and let us suppose that Dixon beats Ohio and then her next step will have been made. Having advanced this far Dixon will then be slated for either Sterling, Prophetstown, or Rock Falls, in order to get into the semi or the finals. No doubt from all data, these four teams, Dixon, Prophetstown, Rock Falls, and Sterling, will be the real finalists, of course taking a lot for granted, and knowing little about the teams. Good old lady luck may shine on Dixon and of course we will all be more than pleased if the good old variety comes through with a good showing.

In regard to the prices that are prevalent at the gate, anyone who wishes to see all the tournament may do so by taking out a season ticket, which will save a lot of money for the individual. Student tickets, good for all the games may be purchased for 75c while the other all tournament tickets sell for $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00 depending on the location. No one interested in basketball can miss this tournament, and by calling the high school office the season tickets can be secured, although a personal visit would be best.

STEWART NEWS

By Mrs. Alonzo Coon

STEWART—Mrs. Gardner Cook will entertain her Sunday school class at the church Saturday afternoon.

Miss Lorraine Hartman of Rockford was here Sunday evening and sang several numbers at the evening services that were enjoyed by the congregation. Rev. Ray Putnam of Rochelle gave the address. Miss Edna Parker left Saturday evening for a visit with relatives in California.

Saturday afternoon a number of ladies from here attended a miscellaneous shower at the Scarborough church in honor of Mrs. Clifford Brett, formerly Miss Neletta Byrd of Scarborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Byrd.

Mervin Hemenway moved his family to the home formerly owned by Mrs. Kate and Bertha Stewart, deceased. He had been farming the Louis Kalas land east of town which has been rented to the canneries.

Harry Macklin purchased the property of the Stewart estate vacated by the Pederson family and has moved from the Morton property.

Mrs. H. L. Brett has been confined to her home for a week by illness.

Thomas P. Kirby and Frank Pettigrew were Dixon business visitors on Monday.

A. C. Rapp purchased the Morton property on Saturday at a public sale.

The Vernon Noyes family and Miss Elizabeth Hochstrasser spent Sunday at the Ray Stevens home near Shabbona Grove.

March and April have been designated as Church Loyalty months. It is hoped that every member and friend of the church and Sunday school will endeavor to be present on the Sundays throughout these two months. Your presence helps others and your cooperation is needed.

AMUSEMENTS

CHICAGO CIVIC OPERA

Franz Lehár's, the famous Viennese composer's international success, the Light Opera "Gypsy Love" which is known in Europe as "Zigeunerliebe" will be given for the first time in the Chicago Civic Opera House in its original version and language.

William L. Klein, producer of this show, has selected the finest cast obtainable in the Middle West of this country. Quite a few of the members have played in this show in Vienna while others are known from German opera performances in Chicago during recent years. For the leading roles have been engaged Lucie Westen and Mark Oster (formerly Chicago Civic Opera.) Irma Perency (Budapest Opera), Edwin Kemp and Frederick Mueller (American Opera Company), Max Bratt and Angela Lippich (Vienna Volkstheater), Anna Mueller-Kauff and Luella Feiertag (Chicago Light Opera Co.)

Conductor Siegfried Volstedt from the Hamburg Opera will give his Chicago debut, and Curt Benisch will be stage director.

The "Oukrainy Ballet" will lance the fiery Csardas, and a huge chorus will aid in making the evening a grand success. According to Mr. Klein tickets are selling at a good rate at the box office of the Civic Opera, and if Sunday's performance is financially successful, there will be other Light Opera presentations to follow.

Fonseca is Looking for Relief Catcher

Pasadena, Cal., March 2.—(AP)—Manager Lew Fonseca of the Chicago White Sox was looking today for a catcher or two to help out until Mervyn Shea recovers from influenza.

Shea is not expected to be ready for another two weeks.

Shakespeare at Windsor

The initials "W. S." with the date 1600, were discovered carved in the ambulatory wall in the St. George's chapel, Windsor, and the theory has been advanced that they refer to William Shakespeare, and are a proof that the dramatist played at Windsor. Plays were given in Elizabethan times at Windsor, and Shakespeare's troupe of actors was known to be traveling at the beginning of the Seventeenth century. Moreover, the carved letters are characteristic of the period and, when compared with an autograph signature of Shakespeare on his will, show a remarkable similarity. There is the same distinctive curl at the top of the letter "S."

TARIFF POWERS TO TEST SWAY OF ROOSEVELT

Republicans Will Open Fire on His Plea for More Powers

BULLETIN

Washington, March 2—(AP)—President Roosevelt will send messages to Congress today on tariff reciprocity agreements and legislation for the Philippine Islands.

The tariff message will ask authority for the President to raise or lower the tariff by as much as fifty percent in conformity with agreements he expects to negotiate with other countries.

A new attempt at Philippine independence legislation was expected by observers in the message on this subject.

Roosevelt also today called in congressional experts to draft a bill curbing the activities of political lawyers before government departments.

Washington, March 2—(AP)—
A fight to "the bitter end" confronted President Roosevelt's tariff proposal today. Embattled Republicans apparently were ready to carry the issue into the fall campaigns.

The plan, which would give the President wide powers to raise or lower tariffs in negotiating reciprocal treaties with foreign nations, was ready for submission to Congress. There was some doubt, however, whether Roosevelt would send it there today because the Senate is in recess.

Republicans forces did not await its arrival to open fire. The G. O.
P. minorities in Senate and House were rallied against the proposal.

Democrats for the most part awaited arrival of the issue in its special message wrapping before talking. Their leaders have promised to shove it through as quickly as possible.

To Test His Sway

The tariff question, it appears, will be "test number three" of the Roosevelt sway over Congress. Administration leaders have finally chosen March 14 as the date for a vote on the St. Lawrence seaway treaty ratification. The showdown agreement was interpreted as meaning the managers see enough strength for passage. They slipped away from definite predictions, however.

Equally uncertain was the final fate of the independent offices bill. Torn apart and stuffed by the Senate with about $120,000,000 in added veterans' benefits and $215-000 for Federal employees, the measure was shoved into a House committee pigeonhole to cool.
Leaders indicated some reducing compromise acceptable to the White House would be sought later.

The House labored again today on the $22,000,000 Agriculture Department supply bill and a resolution for a committee investigation of War Department buying methods. It looked as though both finally would pass today.

SO. DAKOTA TO QUIT ALL STATE-
OWNED BUSINESS

Abandonment of Mine In North Dakota Will Be Next

Pierre, S. D., March 2—(AP)—
The state of South Dakota is going to pull out of private business because it can't make any money out of it.

Its venture in the coal mining business will follow three other state enterprises—rural credit, rail insurance and bonding departments—to the discard as financial failures.

Fulfilling campaign promises, Governor Tom Berry said today he planned to shut down and sell the state-owned mine, situated in North Dakota. He says it has lost money continually. Abandonment of the 15-year-old coal mining business will be made on an expected loss of nearly the entire $185,000 cost.

The rural credit department was discarded in 1925 and has been in the process of liquidation since. A loss running into millions of dollars is anticipated when the books finally are closed.

Liquidation of the rail insurance and bonding departments started last summer.

Officials expect to realize only a few thousand dollars from sale of the coal mine, which produced about 475,000 tons of lignite since it was purchased in 1919. The last offer, received two years ago, was $20,000. About 35,000 tons of recoverable coal remain.

Admitting only a small part of the $185,000 appropriation for the mine may be returned to the state Treasury, supporters of the venture nevertheless contend it was justified.

In its latest published report,
the State Coal Commission said that "operation of the state mine has been a mighty factor in keeping the price of coal to South Dakota consumers within reasonable bounds. The savings to state institutions and other consumers has been undoubtedly in the aggregate a great deal more than the cost of the mine."

said to have had more than 3,000 dresses in her wardrobe when she died.

bile you can protect your family to the amount of $1,000 for 1 year for

CHAPTER I-A

THE small blond boy was a curious, unnaturally keen small animal. He knew the colors of the sky and what they forecast; that sea water stopped itching;
that you stole food to run with it where no one could snatch it from you; and he knew exactly what mental reactions came from Angela's various degrees of drunkenness.

On his eighth, uncelebrated birthday he had his first lesson in love and its loss. He found a bird with a broken wing; he held it close to his heart and the feeling this set in him led him to make small soft noises. Then one of Angela's own came across him and wrested the bird from Pablo to break its neck. After he had gone, laughing, Pablo held the bird close again and salt water came from his eyes. Many of the scars on his back would never fade, but this bruise on his mind never in any sense healed.

It was no long after this that Pablo saw Angela's face. He had seen her from a distance, but now she was close to him. He had eaten the bread, her eldest son said. Would she doubt her own? Never!

"You, thief! The son of one who went away in silks and diamonds but who came home with another song! That Concepcion Villaverde y Blanco, your mother!"

To himself Pablo repeated the name until it was hung on a peg of his mind.

Angela took a step toward Pablito. She was between him and the door, he saw, shaking. "And you, the fruit of sin, my children of their bread!" she screamed. Pablo's mouth was dry from hunger and fear. It would be bad and he was alone (elk). The day and a half without food had left him dizzy, oh, my mother! (very ill).

"I get their filthy money, a few centavos and fewer pesos, and you eat—you eat!" She raised her stick.

A little later Angela stood erect,
the stick still gripped in her hand.
"Never have I given to you this hardness of beating!" she half shrieked triumphantly. And in saying this she was just.

When the night was black and real and Pablo found he could manage to move he crawled from his corner of the shack. Outside, sick and dizzy from pain, he had to pause. He was going; he would not come back. He lurched, swayed onward. After a bit he found a path he knew and after a few feet of travel on this he sank, unconscious, to the hard-beaten ground.

AS Pablo sank to the ground a gentleman who knew himself to be Pablo Noyes sat by a sticky table staring into an empty glass.
Around him was an unpleasant ding; above him rooms where sailors and dock-hands hurried eagerly Jake, the proprietor of the dubious place, said, "Anything more, Mr. Smith?"

Noyes answered in a voice that told of good birth and schooling.
"Thank you, I believe not."

Then he rose. He had thought that through drink he could dim his ache for a world he had known. He wanted a deep chair in a good club, the right to walk

Many "On the Spot"

fearlessly where he would; shop windows; theaters; warmth; good food. But he had only—his back and the loneliness there.
"Come again, Mr. Smith," said
Jake.

"I probably shall," said Noyes bitterly.

His shack was far from Key West and on a remote, stretching finger of an island. He hurried toward it, for the night was cold and of the ink-dark quality that is made by a storm in the tropics. "Not too pleasant to be out," he thought and stumbled over something not. After several futile attempts he held a lighted match between cupped palms and, looking down, said, "My God!"

Pablo, again aware of life, shook from head to foot. He had often said, "Ah, had I a man's strength how I would make you suffer!" and here was a man.

The man lifted the child and, carrying him, walked a long way over a train track and town an-embankment. Then he laid Pablito in a boat and after stepping into it pushed it off. Pablo tried to get out but the man caught him and held him closely. He made soft sounds and Pablo found in his heart the sensation he had had from holding the bird with the broken wing. Then the man went back to his place and began rowing. Despite fear Pablito crept close to him, clutching a fold of his coat. "Senor Dios!"
Pablo whispered. ("Mr. God!")
He heard, "No, hijo mio, un hombre es solo!" ("No, my son, only a contemptible man.")

After quite a little trip the man beached the boat, lifted Pablo again and carried him into a shack where, for a little time, with a lantern lit, he sat by Pablo on a couch. Pablo kept gazing at him. He didn't know why, nor why the man had sea water in his eyes when he said, "We'll stick together!"

NOYES rose; the child must be fed and cared for. Pablo, looking around, saw a shiny thing on a shelf (looking Pablo asked what it was in his low-class, but ready Spanish, and in faltering Spanish, Noyes answered, "The driver of civilized slaves, a clock.
One eats, works, loves, sleeps at his bidding and the clock hands and my inclinations have never agreed!")

The books Pablo was to learn by heart he saw as boxes, there were chairs, a bed, a table and a stove that Pablo recognized by the fire in it. There were pictures, too. One of a woman and a child made him murmur, "La Madre Santissima de Christo!" Noyes said wearily, "No, not it is my wife and my child!"

Norris Noyes, having assembled food, carried Pablo to a chair by the table. The boy gulped down the food, stuffing it into his mouth with grimy fingers.

The man was again making queer noises but now Pablo didn't mind. Noyes had said in English, "Unless you mend your ways you won't make a good club at Princeton!" Then he laughed, not quite steadily, for laughter was almost forgotten by him and it hurt a bit to recover it.

Pablo picked up a fork. "What means this?" he asked.
"Es una tenedor," said Noyes.
"They have great importance to people who are not tall enough to see over small measures."

The strange noises made Pablo feel afraid again. He slipped from his chair to stand by Noyes who hesitated shyly for a moment and then, looking determined, lifted Pablo to his knees. Over the child's head he could see the portrait of a woman with another little boy in her arms.
Pablo felt the arms that were around him tightening.</

First Indian Head Pennies
Indian head pennies were first coined in the year 1858. The design was changed a little in 1860, and a slightly thinner coin was made in 1864. The Indian head 1-cent piece was made from 1850 to 1909, inclusive.

ONLY THE CENTER LEAVES FOR Luckies

1 Luckies do not use the top leaves... because top leaves are under-developed... they are not ripe... They would give a harsh smoke.

2 Luckies use only the center leaves of the finest tobacco plants... because the center leaves are the mildest, tenderest, smoothest.

3 Luckies do not use the bottom leaves, because bottom leaves are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy.

Lucky Strike presents the Metropolitan Opera Company

Saturday at 1:50 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over Red and Blue Networks of NBC. Lucky Strike will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor."

NOT the top leaves—they're under-developed—they are harsh!

The Cream of the Crop "The mildest, smoothest tobacco"

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality—coarse and always sandy!
